UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA
FOUNDATION GIVING SOCIETY

UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA FOUNDATION GIVING SOCIETY

Members of the Giving Society directly affect the stature and reputation of the University of Nebraska as an institution dedicated to teaching, research and service. Without the support of these loyal individuals and organizations, the University of Nebraska simply would not be where it is today. Membership in the Giving Society is one way for the University of Nebraska Foundation to recognize these donors for their ongoing support. Current Giving Society levels are outlined below.

Nebraska Circle

Recognizing donors of $1 million or more to the University of Nebraska.

President's Society

Comprised of two levels recognizing donors of $500,000 or more (President's Circle) and $100,000 - $499,999 (President's Club) to the University of Nebraska.

Chancellor's Society

Including two levels for each campus, recognizing donors of $50,000 or more (Chancellor's Circle) and $25,000 - $49,999 (Chancellor's Club) to a particular campus.

E. A. Burnett Society

Recognizing those who have shared their intention to support the University of Nebraska through a planned gift. Edgar Burnett was a chancellor who led the university through the trying times of the Great Depression and was a leader in the establishment of the University of Nebraska Foundation.

More information about the Giving Society is available at nufoundation.org, or by contacting Amanda Feser, Director of Donor Relations and Recognition, at 800-432-3216 or afeser@nufoundation.org.
